VERNE SANKEY IS LINKED IN LINDY KIDNAP

Noted Saskatchewan Outlaw Planned Other Big Snatches

ST. PAUL, Jan. 3.—County Attorney M. F. Kinkaid today expressed the belief Verne Sankey, fugitive outlaw sought for the abduction of Haskel Bonn here in June, 1932, "may have had connection" with the Lindbergh baby kidnaping.

"We found in the basement of Sankey's house a complete account of the Lindbergh kidnaping case. We also found a note of letter file that contained full accounts of Jack Dempsey's earnings and those of Babe Ruth. On one sheet was a picture of Babe Ruth with the notation on the bottom 'will present him'."

From evidence found on Sankey's ranch at Cedar Valley, S. D., Kinkaid said he deduced that the desperado, who once lived in Saskatchewan, intended to kidnap Jack Dempsey, former world champion, and Babe Ruth, the baseball player.

"My personal opinion is that Sankey is not out of the Lindbergh plot," Kinkaid said. "He is a man of the underworld, who is connected in connection with the abduction of Lindbergh, a refrigerator manufacturer, but Ray Robinson, captured in western Canada, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to a 25-year term in the state prison. He implicated."

RELEASED ON PAYMENT

Bonn was released on payment of $2,000 ransom several days later.

"I have information," Kinkaid added, "that a telephone call was made from Minneapolis, at the time Sankey was living there, New York officials denied this."

Answer Is Sought Antarctic Riddle

Two expeditions are making their way across icy seas to Antarctica to explore the "last continent," one headed by Richard E. Byrd, the other by Lincoln Ellsworth. The map shows their courses. Byrd is to land and explore Marie Byrd Land, Ellsworth is to fly from Ross sea across Antarctica to Weddell sea and return, in an effort to learn whether the vast mass is continent or island. Ellsworth is shown, left, with sketch of his plane; Byrd, right, with his flagship, The Jacob Ruppert.

LA GUARDIA IS FOR DICTATOR

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—The establishment of a municipal dictatorship, unique in the operation of American cities, was proposed today by Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia for solving the financial crisis facing the city of New York.

Confronted with a staggering operating budget of more than $500,000,000, a deficit of $25,000,000 the new fusion mayor seeks a two-year period in which to operate with a free hand.

Under terms of his unparalleled proposal he would delegate to himself sweeping powers.

HOSPITALIZED HOLDS PREMIER

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., Jan. 3.—Premier T. D. Pattullo of British Columbia, confined to hospital here by a nasal infection, will be unable to leave for Ottawa today as he intended, but probably he will start the journey east on Friday.

Dr. W. F. Kergin, the attending physician, announced today that Dr. Kergin stated the Premier was not well, but that it would be unwise for him to travel.

Mr. T. D. Pattullo arrived here shortly after his arrival here last Friday, enroute east to attend the Dominion-Provincial conference.

ROME, Jan. 3.—The "menace" of Japanese naval activities and recent policies was stated yesterday in the Italian budget committee's report on navy expenditure.

The report, signed by Marquis Giacomo Medici Del Vascello, the committee reporter, revealed that Italy's naval budget for the current year.

"Japan today invades China—inspired by race hatred, has planned a naval expedition to the Pacific, the ground work for this future danger from the east is perhaps being laid."

"It was revealed in Japan's recent policies and diplomacy, including her withdrawal from the League of Nations. This gesture is of great importance and is highly significant and menacing."

"The report, signed by Marquis Giacomo Medici Del Vascello, committee reporter, and accepted as a statement of the Italian government, warned that the principal world powers 'are already arming at sea.'"

"If the big European nations were to get together on some pact looking toward disarmament, world tension would be relieved, Vascello said."

"The Italian government, for the treaty negotiations. He said the Washington and London pact never accomplished the purpose of arresting naval rivalry of Japan and the United States."

New Deal Likely in Congress

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—An administration tariff proposal to President Hoover would be given authority to negotiate trade reciprocity treaties without the necessity of Senate ratification today, despite Republican breakbacks and Democratic snuggles at the seventy-third United States Congress swung into session.

Democratic leaders predicted congressional approval. The majority chiefs contended the grant of such power to the executive branch would not be unlike that delegated to the President since 1922 to change import levels.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, forecast congressional approval. Chairman Pittman of the Senate foreign relations committee also strongly favored it.

Senator Borah (R, Idaho) indicated he would take the same stand against it as he did in opposing the flexible provisions of the Hawley-Smoot Act of 1930, which he regarded as the worst tariff measure since 1890.

Pittman said the British board of trade had the authority to reject the tariff amendments and were making plenty of friends during the London economic conference.

The 1934 session of the Alberta legislature will be opened on the seventh legislature of the province will open at three p.m. on Thursday, Feb. 8, according to an announcement made on Wednesday by Premier J. A. Brownlee. This is one day earlier than last year, when the opening day was Feb. 9.

The member to be elected in the Calgary by-election, Jan. 13, will be able to take his seat at the opening of the session on the opening day and session opening will permit all formalities being completed with.

In setting the day of the opening we had to give due regard to the dates of the Dominion provincial conference at Ottawa," declared the Premier. "As two of our ministers were attending the conference, we wanted to make certain they would be back in time. Thus we were governed to some extent by the Calgary by-election."

Asked as to the probable length of the session, the Premier was hopeful that it would be rather shorter than usual. Replying to a question as to the volume of legislation that would confront the members, he said that it was not early to say just how many bills would be introduced. He said, however, that he presumed the volume would be about the same as usual.

SHOCKED BY NOTORIOUS ACTS

Strong Arm of Government Will Be Used to Combat and Suppress Crime-Bankers Are Handed Rap

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—President Roosevelt today in person delivered his address to Congress at the opening of the regular session in which his most determined words were reserved for unnamed tax dodgers and persons guilty of "unethical or criminal" financial practices, which the president said call "for stringent preventive or regulatory measures."

He called upon the government to suppress organized crime, mentioning "banditry, cold-blooded shooting, lynching and kidnaping."

The civil works plan, which the administration says has put 4,000,000 unemployed to work, was not dealt with specifically; but Mr. Roosevelt said his policy would be to seek "to move as rapidly as possible from direct relief to publicly-supported work and from that to the rapid restoration of private employment."

Hinted of a new plan on war debts, stating he would report later in regard to debts which have been defaulted by most of the nations.

The text of the address follows:

I come before you at the opening of the regular session of the 73rd congress, not to make requests for special or detailed items of legislation; I come, rather, to counsel with you, who, like myself, have been selected to carry out a mandate of the whole people, in order that without partisanship you and I may co-operate to continue the restoration of our national well-being and equally important, to build on the ruins of the past a new structure designed better to meet the present problems of modern civilization.

RELATIONS OF INDUSTRY

Such a structure includes not only the relations of industry and agriculture and finance to each other, but also the effect which all of these three have on our individual citizens and on the whole people of a nation.

Now that we are definitely in the process of recovery, lines have been rightly drawn between those to whom the recovery means a return to old methods—and the number of these people is small—and those for whom recovery means a reform of many old methods, a permanent readjustment of many of our ways of thinking and therefore of many of our social and economic arrangements.

CANNOT GO BACK

Civilization can not go back; civilization must not stand still. We have undertaken new methods. It is our task to persevere in them when necessary, but in all cases to go forward. To consolidate what we are doing, to make our economic and social structure capable of dealing with modern life is the joint task of the legislative, the judicial, and the executive branches of the national government.

Without regard to party, the overwhelming majority of our people seeks a greater opportunity for humanity to prosper and find happiness. They recognize that human welfare has not increased and that it cannot increase through mere materialism and luxury, but that it does progress through integrity, unselfishness, responsibility and justice.

Must Surrender License Of Crime

In the past few months, as a result of our action, we have demanded of many citizens that they surrender certain liberties so as they pleased in their business and in their lives. We have asked this in exchange for the protection which the state can give against exploitation by the fellow men or by combination of the fellow men.

I congratulate this congress upon the courage, the earnestness and the wisdom with which you consider the crisis at the special session. It was your fine understanding of the national problem that furnished the

Shadows of Differences Enveloping Air Europe

The shadow of an apparent impasse in efforts to ease the military relationship between France and Germany lay darkly over Europe today.

The most outspoken of Germany, including Chancellor Adolf Hitler, studied a side-by-side memorandum from France in which the latter repeatedly refused the demands of its great war enemy for larger armaments.

Despite this refusal, Parisian circles indicated the French foreign minister, Georges Bonnet, was ready to negotiate on the subject with Germany.

Beyond the Alps, in Rome, Premier Benito Mussolini and Sir John Simon, the British foreign secretary, were ready to confer on the situation.

It was known that Mussolini believed his plan for a reformation of the League of Nations would pave the way to cordiality between France and Germany. Great Britain, likewise, hopes for Franco-German friendship.

OTTAWA, Jan. 3.—It was learned at noon today that Prime Minister R. B. Bennett planned to leave late tonight on a trip to Calgary and Vancouver, intending to make a stop at the latter city.

OTTAWA, Jan. 3.—No word was received today from Mr. Bennett's daughter Muriel, now in the Capitol city, who had been bought up silver, and Mr. McCormick's sister, Mrs. Farnette Frenchie, who bought nothing.

GOES AT AUCTION

OTTAWA, Jan. 3.—A fur coat, valued at $1,000, was sold yesterday, crowded the auction room, the belongings of Mrs. Muriel McCormick, who was going under the hammer.

Edmonton Travellers Enjoy Christmas in Warm South

California is Mecca For Westerners in Cold Days

Hollywood would have Christmas and Santa Claus without stars. From Edmonton visitors, who are enjoying the summertime of the south, during the winter months, and who spend the Christmas season in Hollywood come the descriptions of the famous Ritz Hotel and Boulevard, decorated with trees lit up with gayly colored lights. It became known as Santa Claus Lane and every evening at half past seven Santa, in a wonderful elf-like outfit, drove up and down the lane accompanied by some of the younger stars—among them Jackie Coogan—dressed in brownies and bunnies. Some of the brownie-fest stars also accompanied Santa on his nightly trip. Over 400 automobiles were parked on the avenue for the very prominent ones. The scene was a most unusual one.

TOURNAMENT OF ROSES
Another gleam from the south came with the thought of sending New Year's day in Pasadena to attend the Tournament of Roses and to go to the great Pasadena Rose Bowl for the football game between Stanford and Columbia.
Among Edmontonians who are attending a southern winter are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Brown who are in La Jolla, and Mr. and Mrs. McKelvey who are in San Diego. Mr. and Mrs. Brown expect to go to Los Angeles in January 10 to remain there two months.
Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Henry and Mr. Alan Henry, spent November in San Diego, but are now in Hollywood and Pasadena.
Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Barrie and their son, Mr. Albert Barrie, have been in San Diego for several weeks. They are planning to return home toward the middle of January.

Many Deliveries of Coals Made in City Show Short Weight

Commissioner Mitchell Issues Warning to Offending Mines - Prosecution Will Follow if Rectification Not Made - Some Loads Quarter of a Ton Short.

That some coal deliveries made in the city recently have been short-weight as much as a quarter of a ton was revealed today in figures supplied to city commissioners by the license department. Commissioner Mitchell issued a warning Wednesday that offenders in this respect would be prosecuted if they did not heed the first warning given them by the city.

A report in this connection prepared by the city inspector showed that the shortweights ran from 50 to 540 pounds. There were several loads of coal as heavy as 540 pounds, figures ranging from 10 to 400 pounds.

City commissioners were supplied with a list of the men from whom short-weight loads are delivered. When the weights inspector finds that the load of coal is as heavy as it should be, the offending parties will be prosecuted, the commissioner stated.

Soon the old woman melted down to nothing. Dotty, with a frown, said, "Well, I think you Tiny boys are mean as mean can be."

"You stood and let the hot, old sun burn you good," said Dotty, "that spoiled our fun." Say, how could we have stopped it?" questioned Scouty. "Please tell me."

"You could have built a snow-house, and then we could have been real glad to crawl inside."

And then they all trudged through the snow. "Hey, lad, where are we going to go?" asked Windy. "To a toyshop, near," came back the quick reply.

"Where can I find some toys in there?" they all found out in the toy store. "We'll drag them all out in the air and have a lot of fun with them. It's surely worth a try."

They reached the toyshop. There came a man, a surprised man, and a shame. A man stepped that was

There is no sense in hoping for a snowman to melt. The snow can be found." You bet, exclaimed a friendly elf. Just follow me."

Death Again Recalls Curse of King Tut's Tomb

WEIGALL, NOTED EGYPTOLOGIST, IS LATEST TO DIE

HOLLYWOOD GOSSIP

INTIMATE GLIMPSES AND INSIDE STUFF ON THE MOVIE COLONY

By DAN THOMAS

Former Inspector-General of Antiquities Present When Pharaoh's Tomb Opened, Dies After Mysterious Illness.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—Arthur Edward Weigall, British Egyptologist, died here yesterday after a long illness. He was 53 years old. He retired from a position as the Egyptian government's inspector-general of antiquities in 1914, and devoted himself to travel and writing.

The legend of "Tutankhamen's curse," under which misadventure was foreshadowed for violators of that ancient Egyptian king's tomb was recalled with the death of Mr. Weigall, for he was present when King Tut's tomb was opened.

Friends said there was something mysterious about his illness, the cause of which could not be traced, and that it was "extraordinary" that he should have died on the day that the London Mail said Weigall himself was not free of the "Tutankhamen's curse."

In 1923 Weigall wrote a book entitled "Tutankhamen and Other Kings."

King Tut's Curse Again

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—The death in London of Arthur E. P. Weigall, famous Egyptologist, is being regarded here as the latest in a series of mysterious deaths which have been attributed to the curse of King Tutankhamen's tomb, recalled the curse said to have overtaken those who tampered with the graves of the pharaohs.

Friends said there was something mysterious about his illness and the newspaper reported Mr. Weigall did not speak at the King Tut funeral service in connection with several deaths there was said to be the curse.

The Earl of Carnarvon, head of the Archaeological expedition which discovered the tomb, died in April, 1923, shortly after the exploit.

Wolf Josef, son of a British racehorse owner, died in London on November, 1923, a few months after he visited the Valley of Kings. He was on route to the Egyptian tombs at the time of his death.

Last September the wife of J. F. Cellerier, a noted French architect, died in London after a long illness. She was said to be the latest "victim" when he lost the use of his left eye as a result of ultraviolet ray tests on a small statue from an ancient Egyptian funeral chamber.

Montreal Maroons Trade Teddy Graham To Detroit For Evans

MONTREAL, Jan. 3.—Montreal Maroons Tuesday traded Teddy Graham to Detroit for Steve Evans. It was a straight trade of defencemen with no cash involved. Manager Eddie Green made the trade in New York, telephoning the news to President James Strachan. Graham played his last game with Maroons last night at Boston. Johnson is new club in Detroit in time for Thursday's game against Rangers.

PHILS NAME TIM WILSON AS MANAGER

Rocky players are being bled about as fast as the East as managers strive to build winning clubs for the stretch drive in the various leagues. This is the time of year when every game means a lot and the result is that there is an unprecedented number of deals being made. ... Boston Braves were bled in one all-out trade yesterday when Maroons insulated upon getting an Edmonton product, Red Beattie, for Glen Hyman. ... Art Ross wouldn't stand for that, however, and the deal fell through. ... Beattie has returned to his team from a year out of hockey with a broken leg and is being on the first line of the Bruins. ... Other teams, though, are getting their deals through and there almost equal the number being made by big league ball owners this winter. ...

Incidentally, down East last night the Canadians were making a great attempt at a comeback this year, suffered a bad blow when the star centre, Howie Morenz, was laid low with an ankle injury that will keep him out of action for some time. ...

Earl Robertson, who has always been a favorite with Edmonton Maroons since he came here to play goal for the Eskimos at the beginning of last season, will be trying for his third straight shutout when the Igluemen play Seattle tonight. ... Robbie Blacklock of Portland took last week and his boosters will be pulling for him to continue his string of scoreless games in the Eskimo nets. When he's right, there are few better netminders anywhere. ...

Eskimos, by the way, have a chance to go places in the league standings this week if they can take a couple of games off Seattle club. ... Two wins would boost them all the way up to the second berth ahead of Portland and Vancouver, when they trail by a slight margin. ...

Rits about everything: There is talk in the East about internal discussion in the ranks of Montreal Maroons, holders of the Stanley Cup. ... Some wanted one western player released and the rest of the importers run up in arms. ... go be played. ... The Hawks, I might tell you, are operated as a municipal venture in Montreal. ...

George Lynch, of the former secretary of the Alberta Amateur Hockey Association, was here over the weekend. ... He is with a motion picture company. ... It will be good for the Shores-Baker-Harris affair these days. ... It will be good to hear of Shores getting back into the game soon. ... Al Hall, Montreal variety show star, may be in the Allan Cup finals when spring rolls around, for experts are rating this year's McGill club as one of the strongest contenders in the country. ... And "Long Al" is playing regular lacrosse for the team. ...
